Scott loved to ride his alpine snowboard. He came to a gathering of riders held in Aspen, in early February each year, a number of times. He made many friends, from all over the world, while we carved, ate and talked together. I watched as his skills grew and he became a confident rider of ever steeper slopes. But what I remember most is his smile, his enthusiasm, his enjoyment in riding on his snowboard, and his gentleness, kindness, and humility. I had been looking forward to spending time with him again when the news of his death was posted on the Bomberonline Forum, a place where alpine snowboarders from all over the world meet. Lisa, Cassie, and Rikki, although we have never met, thank you for sharing him with us. Alan McKenzie, New Zealand.

I just learned of Scott's tragic passing. Scott and I were family friends for the first 20 years of his (and my) life. I fondly remember him sharing his chocolate (that he could not eat) with me when he would figure out the engineering puzzle in summer camp that I could not and I became the beneficiary of his smarts. I would like to give condolences on his behalf of his father Al, mother Dee and sister Sharon with whom we all spent many wonderful times together with. Rest peacefully my friend.Dr. Ken MorrisSan Diego, CA

I thought it a bit strange that Scott always had a smile on his face when I first met him all those years ago in 1st year pharmacy school. I soon realized that it was I who needed the attitude adjustment. Scott's infectious optimistic world view brighten all of our lives. I thank you for all the good times we had, for being a part of my wedding, for being a dear, dear friend. Although time and distance had separated us, the time our families spent in San Francisco quickly erased those spent years. It was unspoken but I felt the love of a brother when we met again. In my memories and in my heart, Scott will always hold a special place.

Scott was a great friend and partner in our lives together at the JFK Emergency Room. A friendly soul who wanted to help me succeed when I was there. Always lending his ear to those who needed it and sharing his similar life experiences to ease any of your negative feelings. He greatly defined our Pharmacist roles as educators providing sincere compassion with never a lack of "strong work!" Our condolences and hearts are for the Siegel family.

Our deepest and most heartfelt condolences to the family. Scott was a truly good man, and those of us who did kendo with him at Sedokan loved him dearly. From a beginner Scott advanced to the second degree black belt in just six years and was training hard for his third degree. He worked hard and consistently, in spite of long term problems with his knee and back. He was funny, generous, and loyal and always a very important pillar of the team in practices and trips to tournaments. We are all better people for having trained with him.
