

Lorraine R. Gimbel

AUG 19, 1959 - OCT 30, 2012

Scan to Visit

Table of Contents

Tribute Wall	Page 3
---------------------------	--------

Tribute Wall

Lorraine R. Gimbel

AUG 19, 1959 - OCT 30, 2012

JL

Jack Leichter posted:

So sorry to hear of Lori's passing. Although we probably hadn't seen each other since we were kids, I have fond memories of her. Our thoughts are with you.

November 4 at 8:28 PM

AT

Alison And Jason Theriot posted:

Our hearts are broken because the Lord has taken you from us. Words cannot say what you mean to so many of us. You are more than a friend, you are part of our family. I wish we could have had more time. However, I know you are always with us. Our hearts will never forget you and we ask that you watch over us on our journeys until we will meet again. Lori, your beauty is immeasurable and God blessed us the moment he brought you into our lives. Your love and compassion for each and every one of us is more than we could ask for in a single person. Your generosity has been priceless and we promise to pay it forward as you would have. We will all miss you and you will always be remembered as a treasure. We are humbled at the thought of the Lord's power and will always wonder why he would take someone that brought such happiness to the world around you and especially to each person you touched. Whether, it is a kind gesture or loving inspiration, you always knew what to say and when to say it. Things that you thought were simplistic, we perceived as guidance. Among the darkest of days, you were a light to guide our way. You made each of us a better person and we feel honored to have known the person that you are. We will continue to lead by your example. Even though, your personal journey has taken you in a different direction. We believe that where you are, the roads are paved of gold and flowers are forever in bloom. With that thought in mind, we know that your smile is the sun and when it rains, it is your soul providing nourishment to all we see and do. The nutritional well being to ourselves, our children and loved ones that you bestowed upon us unconditionally. Take our love with you to the heavens and may you always remember your children, family and friends. We hope that we gave as much as we received in our short, but spectacular time together in this world.

November 1 at 12:33 PM

Memories only last if you share them

Join us in honoring Lorraine by contributing to a collection of shared memories.

Scan to Visit