Hi mom big news. Levi is in love and it looks serious .Sara too in love .Isabel retired already and she's now an Airbnb host..im.great nowadays with work at home swimming and making bagels. Lori is ok in Florida. Phillis no longer is her friend .don't know why but Lori moved to north Florida to be near phillis .then boom. A fight I guess m.philkisdidnt invite her to the wedding of Jen her daughter. Or to the Jewish ceremony for jens daughter. 80th street was there in photos many friends but Lori didn't go. thanks for this year's birthday gifts to both my kids. .in your name we gave them things .well I'll be in Florida summer time and will bring you flowers.. I wish you had treatedlori better. She misses you but in truth don't know why. You and dad treated her differently.she cried alot .now she talks like you loved her and she loved you always..it of reverse .many from 80th know you were negative to her .donno why she writes she misses you and the good times. I guess getting beaten means at least you're getting attention .she misses that attention..bye for now.

My mom was an angel. She lived a long life and was basically happy. When I think of my mom I think of the celebration of her life..not her death. She knew how to live. She knew how to love and when she loved...she loved with intensity. In the last few years I spoke to her every day and when we saw each other, we smiled. It was a pleasure to be there for mom. She took care of me when I was a baby and I will never forget it. I miss my mom. I think about her every single day and I know she is looking down at me and protecting me. Mom, I want to keep you in my prayers. I know you are with the other angels and I will see you one day in Heaven. Always in my thoughts.....I love you. Amen RIP
