Obituary

James Wilkins

sorrow I have ever experienced before. Words can't express how much I miss you.

In all the years we were together you hardly raised your voice or became upset about anything. Always a smile and the willingness to give a helping hand to someone in need. You were a good husband and father who helped raise four well adjusted and intelligent sons.

I will always cherish the beautiful memories and the wonderful times we spent traveling and being together.

A person is fortunate and blessed to have that one true Love in their lifetime; you were mine.

Love always, Sheila
