Lynn, Please accept my condolences on Bill's passing. It was nice getting reacquainted at dinner about two years ago. At that time and on subsequent occasions we reminisced about his childhood. Again, I am sorry. Ron Silver, Worcester, MA

I had the honor and privilege to know Dr. William (Bill) Saxton over the past 10 years through the organization he created, Citizens For National Security. I learned a great deal from Bill about national security and my involvement with CFNS. Our relationship grew to a friendship that I will cherish. Bill was a memorable man and I greatly admired and respected him. He and his beautiful wife, Lynn hosted me at their club many times over the years and I grew to know Lynn as well. I loved Bill's acute intellect and his ability to decipher facts from emotions regarding national security and how it pertains to politics. I will very much miss our conversations and spending time together. I hold our relationship with satisfaction and joy. He was a real patriot. He loved his country very much and spent countless hours with CFNS and built it into a well respected organization with many accomplishments that to this day keep our country a safer place. With much sadness for the loss of Bill, I will hold our times together and the memory of him as a friend with great fondness. Mark N. Dorf

Bill will be missed more than he ever realized. After working with him in Citizens For National Security for many years, I adopted him as my father figure after mine passed away. He had a heart bigger than most, even though not everyone saw it. I am blessed to have been one of those who did see it. I miss him and his phone calls already. My sympathies to his large and loving family. Debbie Love
