I was deeply saddened to hear about your passing. It was an honor to have known you, and I feel blessed to have had the opportunity to catch up with you a few months ago. Our last conversation brought back so many fond memories of the people who once stood by our side, and I will cherish those memories forever. I remember the countless conversations we had growing up and all the real estate work we did together. You were a true professional, and your passion and dedication to your work were truly inspiring. As we mourn your loss, we find comfort in knowing that your memory will be a blessing.

Your Dad was such a special person and a great friend. There are so many fond memories of great times together buying real estate and traveling together. I will miss you Larry Hershman. I rest in knowing that we will all be together at Eternal Light for eternity! May the party always continue. My hugs to the family. My prayers are with you to keep all the good memories close to your heart!
