Marsha Ryzman – 1926-2024

Marsha Jasinowski Ryzman died on January 31, 2024 at St. Vincent Hospital in Bridgeport, CT after a fall. She was 97. Her daughter, Jacqueline Ryzman Gold, was at her bedside.

She is survived by 3 children, 4 grandchildren, and 6 great-grandchildren.

Marsha was born in Havana, Cuba in 1926. Her parents, Jacob and Anna Jasonowski (nee Lunieksfky) had emigrated from Russia in 1924 after immigration to the US had become severely restricted. Her sister Sonia was born two years earlier. Marsha's parents separated when she was a young child and Marsha was raised by her mother in Havana. Her sister was sent to be raised by an aunt in New Jersey.

After Marsha graduated from high school, she and her mother immigrated to the US settling in Paterson, NJ where they joined Sonia who was attending nursing school in Paterson.

She met her husband Maurice in Paterson, and they lived in Paterson and then East Paterson (Elmwood Park) for over 30 years. In Elmwood Park they raised 3 children – Judy, David, and Jackie.

Marsha's mother, Anna (Bubbie) always lived with Marsha and Maury and helped raise their 3

While raising her 3 children, Marsha worked at several jobs over the years. Most notably Marsha worked as the office manager, X-ray technician, translator, and administrator for a Paterson orthopedist, Dr. Benjamin Barolsky. In that job, Marsha could use her intelligence and people skills to run the practice - freeing Dr. Barolsky to focus on providing medical care. Marsha and Maury were a vivacious, outgoing couple with many friends in the community. They were both active in their temple and in many Jewish organizations. Marsha's Latin spirit and her love of dance always sparkled at any social event. In the mid-1980s while still in their 50s, Marsha and Maury moved to Delray Beach, FL where they lived together until Maury's death in 2009. In Delray they were again active socially, enjoyed meeting friends at the community pool and continued to travel. Her 4 grandchildren would love to come visit and stay with 'Nana' and 'Pop-pop' as their parents would leave the kids and take off for a few days on their own. Life became more difficult after Maury's death in 2009. For several years, Marsha stayed in Delray maintaining old friendships, but health issues and the desire to be with her children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Massachusetts prompted her to move to Connecticut to live close to her younger daughter Jackie and the rest of the family. Her final years were challenging as health problems mounted, but she was always buoyed by visits from family. New technology allowed her to frequently do 'Facetime' with grandchildren and great-grandchildren, and this always gave her joy.

Marsha's last residence was Sims House at Mozaic, she welcomed me when I arrived and didn't know anyone. She liked to hold hands and visit in my room. She loved music and wanted to attend all the live shows at Mozaic, where she would clap and dance in her chair. I will really miss her! 🌸🌸🌸

Marsha was a LoVe ❤️, such a kind sweet friend to our Mamala at the Sims House at Mozaic Senior Life. Marsha would always look out for our Mom, they often spent time together in each other's rooms, holding hands caring for one another. Whenever I brought flowers for our Mamala, I made sure to buy Marsha a bouquet as well. I have many dear photos of the two of them that I shared on her tribute wall. We will all miss her, my Mamala said, I have lost my only friend.
