Oh my god, i can't believe it. this shouldn't have happened. Ron, you're so young. We were in the same class in Kyiv math school, you were one of those teenagers you could always rely on, helpful, attentive, a great friend, a super athlete-basketball player. Aou're forever in my best memories, as well as in our classmate photos. Rest in peace, dear ron (at school we called you Radik). Anna

I'm deeply saddened to hear about Ron. We spent so many years working together at L'Oréal, and I'll always remember his kindness, generosity, and endless curiosity. He was the kind of person who was always ready to help, always eager to learn something new. When we spoke a couple of years ago, he still had that same optimism and grounded wisdom that made him such a joy to know. He will be deeply missed.

We had the privilege of knowing Ron for about seven years, and during that time, we were deeply touched by his remarkable personality. People like Ron make our lives brighter and better. Every time we spoke with him, we could feel his trust and sincerity, which in turn inspired us to do our best. Ron was an exceptionally intelligent and kind man who had a special way of bringing light into every room and making everyone around him feel seen, valued, and uplifted. We deeply admired what a wonderful husband and father he was. We join his family in mourning this great loss. The memory of Ron — his warmth, wisdom, and genuine heart — will forever remain with us. Rest peacefully, dear Ron. You will never be forgotten. Alexander and Elena Medvedovsky

Radik was a bright, outgoing, and deeply positive person whose energy left a lasting impression. Even though we didn't meet often, his warmth and presence were always felt. He had a natural way of making people feel welcome and uplifted. One winter night, during a fierce storm, Radik drove to New York City to bring home his daughter and ours. That moment said everything about who he was — a devoted father and a dependable friend who never hesitated when it came to caring for others. Radik faced his illness with incredible strength and grace. His resilience and love for life inspired everyone around him. Though he is no longer with us, his spirit lives on in the lives he touched and the example he set. Alex and Lena

I wish I had the time to list them all, when me and Mitchell were younger I spent countless hours at the Malinin house. Me and Mitchell would skate, tear the house apart, even after tearing the house apart I was always offered a seat at the table for dinner without question. Not to say I was free loader but I ate there almost everyday and Ron and Julia never even questioned it and I thank them for that everyday it was like a second home. Ron always knew what was best for Mitchell and Alana and I got to see it first hand, they never slacked academically, he made sure they knew how important it is to finish something you started, and to be a good person. I want to thank the malinin family for being such a big part of my childhood and always giving me a place to hangout with my best friend. Sending the malinin family all my love in this hard time. Rest in peace Ron malinin. ❤️

I will always remember when Alana and I went to Montreal in 2018 by ourselves as high schoolers and our flight home got canceled. Radik immediately dropped everything to help us out, and ended up driving to Port Authority in Manhattan at 3am (with Julia, of course) to pick us up from the bus station. I remember him insisting to drive all the way to Montreal to come get us, even when as we were booking the bus tickets!! have nothing but great memories of Radik supporting Alana and I's crazy dreams as we were growing up. Truly countless memories of him always being there for her in ways that are too special and dedicated to put into words. A truly wonderful man who was so devoted to his family. May he rest in peace.
