“ To the loved ones of Mr. Kates:
It was a gift for me to work with Mr. Kates; I enjoyed his smile and all of his stories and jokes. He was a very proud man who loved life and his family. His memory is a blessing.
Wishing you all comfort and strength during these hard times. Laura Friedman

“ Dad was a proud and unapologetic nerd, among other things, and I say that with great love- he sported a plastic pocket protector crammed with pens, rulers and mechanical pencils-to work every day, for years. He was an intelligent, quiet, gentle and kind man, and taught me the importance of hard work, dependability and thoughtfulness, by demonstrating those qualities every day.

“ Buzz and I are so sad to hear this news. Al was such an integral part of the Beth Abraham Community for so many years. His kind and welcoming nature was obvious to all who knew him. We have fond memories of visits to their home in Florida. His memory will surely be a blessing.

“ Dad was very compassionate and thoughtful, who led by example. He would demonstrate vast firmness and strength when needed, and his journey through life is to be envied. Teachers, parents, and mentors like him rarely come along, and the best tribute one can offer is to pay it forward with your family and friends. Don't forget to tell a pun or ten in his memory. “ My heartfelt sympathy to all. Al was a kind gentle man. Although we were separated my miles I have fond memories of time spent when we both lived in Nashua. Sending warm hugs. Bev Seligman

“ Al's humor was wonderful and sometimes corny, but often some wisdom with his comments. He often taught us something.
