“ I worked with Charles at Curtis HS for many years. Charles was always a funny, optimistic, happy man. He was brilliant in math and investment strategies, a funny story teller, and a great teacher. We lived nearby. Charles gave my son Justin his Bar Mitzvah lessons. My son had a very long Haftorah. Charles worked with him until my son was so proficient in his lengthy Haftorah, that the president of the shul asked me which yeshiva my son had attended. When I told this to Charles, I will NEVER forget the smile and the happiness on his face. Every mornin\g, as he entererd the school, he wouldb greet me with a big hello. He wasa a warm person. I loved his style of humor and eternal optimism. He was a man of many interests. I am shocked to hear of his passing. I will never forget him for his personality was so unique and one of a kind. My sincerev condolences to his family. May you rest in peace, Charles! Marc Roth

“ I will remember him with fondness also. Worked close in the business dept. Knowing how much he was loved will make his family feel better as time goes on.

“ It was just another day in the Teacher's room. Charlie was fast asleep on the couch. The note on his chest said "wake me up for 3rd period". This was a regular occurrence. "Charlie when you ready for a real relationship I have a nice lady for you" The rest is history .
